SUMMARY

As a frontend developer with more than 5 years of professional experience, I have developed expertise in web designing and user interface development. I possess a strong understanding of cross-browser compatibility issues and I am adept at optimizing web design patterns. With expertise in responsive web design, I am able to quickly analyze and fix UI bugs. Additionally, I have a demonstrated ability to optimize code to improve performance. Overall, I bring a passion for delivering user-centered web experiences and a track record of successful projects to any development team.
